LOCAL NEWS

The Women's Social Service Club of Auburn Park entertained their husbands at a birthday party on Valentine's night, Feb. 14, at the home of Mrs. Roswell Atwood, 7704 Sangamon St. Games were played and a very enjoyable evening spent. Every one present received a gift from the grab basket. A tempting luncheon was served.

Take your cleaning, pressing or repairing to Gus Bovik's Tailor Shop, 7822 Halsted St., for best results.

We were all very glad to see Mr. A. E. Picard of Camp Grant, Rockford, at his former home, 7841 S. Aberdeen St., on Sunday, February 17, 1918. It was rather a hard proposition to try to see "Ed" alone, as his "Lady Friend," Miss Babe Beuche of South Bend, Indiana, was "on the job." We all hope to see "Ed" home again before very long.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mulheran of 7930 Aberdeen St. announce the engagement of their daughter Mary, to Joseph Auman of Windsor Park. The young couple will be married in April.

Mrs. Boyd Creapp and son James have left for Los Angeles.

We all wish Miss Mary Mulheran and Joseph Aumann a long and happy journey along the path of matrimony.

On Sunday, Feb. 17, 1918, the Civic Music Association of Hamilton Park, 74th St. and Normal Blvd., gave two concerts. Wally Heymar, violinist; Leroy Shield, pianist; Lucille Wallace, accompanist, at Sherman Park. At three-thirty the Civic Music Club of Hamilton Park, Palmer Christian, director, gave a concert, assisted by Edith Ayers McCullough, soprano.

The Oglesby Parent-Teacher Association, 77th and Green streets, met last Wednesday at 2 p. m. Mr. C. W. Trench spoke on Preparedness.

The Chairman of the South Side Red Cross auxiliaries met last Wednesday in the ballroom of the La Salle hotel. Plans were discussed to perfect better co-ordination between the auxiliaries and the chapter. Mrs. Plumb presided; Miss Eaton, chairman; Mrs. MacMahon spoke.

The South Shore Country Club gave its big event of the year on Washington's Birthday in the form of formal ball with a cotillion. A call has been sent out for volunteers to form another home guard company and hold its regular meetings at the club.

The Hamilton Park Women's Club held a business meetinglast Tuesday. Miss Katharine Porter spoke on The Constitution of Illinois.

Stork arrivals during February: Mr. and Mrs. Richards, 1040 W. 104th St., a son; Mr. and Mrs. Harper, 9761 Winston Ave., a son; Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor, 715 E. 95th St., a son; Mr. and Mrs. Heitman, 8600 Vincennes, a son.

The West Auburn Park Red Cross Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Deneen, 8018 Elizabeth St., on Monday, Feb. 18.

The War and Your Clothes

To release for war work laborers now making things you buy; to save as much wool as possible for our soldiers and their allies; you are asked to buy clothes only when you need them, to buy the clothes that wear the longest, and you can comply with this request by sending the clothes you have to us for cleaning and pressing frequently.

TIM WELDON, Tailor,
Cleaning and Pressing,

Chicago, Feb. — Word has come from Washington that receipts from the sale of War Savings stamps have now reached the total of $2,000,000 a day. Just a few years ago this would have been enough money to pay the entire expenses of the National Government. But in these days of war expenditures the sum is almost inconsequential. The hopeful part of the news, however, is the fact that the receipts are growing by leaps and bounds. The total for December was only about $10,000,000. The January total was $24,000,000, and the February total ought to be in the neighborhood of $60,000,000. But, if the $2,000,000,000 is to be raised before the end of the year—and it will be—the receipts must average, from now on, about $6,000,000 a day. In other words the country is only up to one-third of its daily quota. The period of organization has passed. The period of action has come. The War Savings Committee for Illinois feels confident that Illinois will do its duty.

Freeport, Ill., Feb. — E. J. Scanlan, an official of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen of this city has devised a novel scheme to aid the War Savings campaign. It is the custom of this lodge to divide among its members the surplus remaining in the treasury. This year, instead of sending checks, the lodge will send to each member a Thrift card with eight Thrift stamps valued at $2 attached. There are 160 members and this means the sale of 1,280 Thrift stamps. It means more than this, however. Each recipient will have to fill up the card in order to exchange it for an interest-bearing War Savings stamp. And after he has got one War Savings Stamp it is a foregone conclusion he will want more. The net result of this little action is that 160 well paid workmen are started on a campaign of thrift.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Schley of 6121 May St. enjoyed a trip to Wilmette last Sunday in their new car.

Mr. George Pryor of 72nd St. is convalescing from pneumonia at the South Shore Hospital.

Jolly Junior Girls Elect Officers

The Jolly Junior Girls held election of officers Sunday, Feb. 17, 1918, at the home of Miss Margarett Dobbeck, 4211 S. Francisco Ave. The following were elected: Miss Bernadetta Phee, President; Miss Lillian Ziemer, Vice-President; Miss Clara Tiess, Treasurer, and Miss Blanche Weber, Secretary.

After the meeting a very dainty supper was served by Mrs. Dobbeck.

In the evening the girls had their gentlemen friends call. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games, singing and dancing. All had a very nice time, which is the Jolly Junior's motto.

On Saturday evening, Feb. 23rd, 1918, the Jolly Junior Girls gave a Bunco party at the home of Miss Geraldien Meshkie, 6434 S. Honore St. After the Bunco game was over many other games were played. All had a very delightful evening.

"Remember"

When the men of the army or the navy make up their minds to "remember" something, they do not forget. And they "remember" by acting. The Alamo was "rememberer" and the Maine was "remembered"—not in bloodthirsty hatred, but in the spirit of justice. It is proverbial that Americans are slow to anger, that their good nature can stand a great deal of rubbing the wrong way before it becomes bristly. But, as was demonstrated in the Revolutionary, Mexican, Civil and Spanish-American struggles, the just anger of the American is shown not by wordiness, but by action.

Because the American people as a whole have not been giving expression from the housetops to hatred over the unrighteous methods employed in German warfare, the German autocrats have been trying to convince the German masses that America's heart is not in this war, that the stalwarts of the new world are being dragged into military service. Not long ago a handful of American engineers fought an overpowering force of Germans and fought it to a standstill. It was then that some of the Germans at least were convinced that the new foes could be "fighting mad."

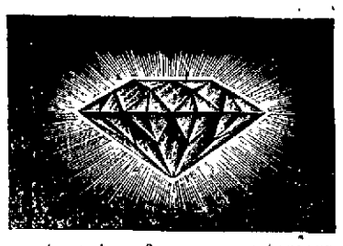
"Men can be fighting mad," said an American army officer recently, "even when they are smiling. It is said by those who know him that General Custer always wore a gentle smile, even while in battle, and that he never allowed himself to become ruffled or excited. Whatever anger the American fighting forces show will be shown in action—and then these forces will prove their ability to fight against the finest of the kaiser's warriors.

"Now, in this 'remembering' business, the men of the navy and the men of the army have determined to 'remember the Tuscania' and the gallant lads who went down with her. But these men should not be expected to do all the 'remembering.' The whole nation should 'remember' that disaster and every man, woman and child in the land can do so. All of us cannot go to the fighting front and do our 'remembering' but every one of us who stays at home can 'remember' that disaster and the illegal method by which the Tuscania was sunk, by lending the Government money with which to right the great wrong. Every person who buys Liberty bonds can put himself on record as having 'remembered' the Tuscania and the lads who lost their lives when she was torpedoed off the Irish coast."

Mr. John Ahlgrenina, 9962 Racine Ave., has arrived in France.

Mrs. Frank Luken and Miss Ethel Luken have left for a visit to their sons and brothers at Camp Logan, Houston.

Fine Diamonds



FASHION never frowns on diamonds. They are always in style and always a safe investment. There is no hope of an increased supply, hence the wisdom of buying now. When we bought our stock of diamonds last year, we made a great saving for our customers, because regardless of present conditions in the trade we have not advanced prices, nor shall we do so this season. Our stock consists of only the best quality stones.

Your Nearest National Bank

THE PAYMENT of bills in connection with your household and personal expenses by check is a most progressive and convenient way.

IT SAVES YOU having lying around the house or carrying in your pocket from one pay-day to another an unnecessary amount of money and the check itself will be a receipt for your rent, electric light or gas bills, grocery bills, lodge dues, taxes, and payments of all kinds.

BESIDES the very habit of making a record of these payments, you will find, has a tendency of eliminating the spending of money for a good many things you do not need.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne
In the Metro Screen Romance
'Under Suspicion'

A brilliant comedy melodrama of the type in which these stars are supreme. Young Simpson, a millionaire, sees Virginia Blake at a reception and falls in love with her. She is a reporter and scorns the idle rich, so he goes to work as a cub reporter, keeping from her the knowledge of his wealth. Some jewels have been stolen. Suspicion points strongly to Simpson, and Virginia tries to discover the culprit. Exciting incidents follow thick and fast, progressing to a dramatic climax. Simpson is proved innocent, but Virginia cannot forgive him for being one of the idle rich. The way in which he overcomes this objection forms a novel finish to this great story.

METRO PLAY SHOWS BIG CHARITY BALL

An elaborate charity ball is one of the noteworthy features in "Under Suspicion," a Metro picture starring Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, which will be presented on Tuesday, February 26.

For the staging of this fashionable charity ball, one of the largest and most elaborate interior settings ever erected by Metro, was built at the New York studio. The set occupied practically all the floor space of the spacious studio, and several unusual "long shots" were secured. The set represented the ball room of a large New York hotel, and while not in replica of any particular ball room in a specific Metropolitan hostelry, it was a composite of the best features found in modern palace-type hotels.

Over a hundred couples in evening clothes danced in these fashionable scenes. The orchestra was stationed in front of a golden, shell-shaped sounding board, festooned with electric lights.

It is at this charity ball that the great robbery of the Woolworth diamonds is enacted with such gripping realism.

MAE MARSH

"THE BELOVED TRAITOR"

The eternal conflict of country and city, of innocence and guile, of ambition and disruption, is the theme of this picture Mae Marsh has the role of the village girl who inspires the man she loves to do great things, only to be forgotten by him in his moment of triumph. In sharp contrast to the life in the sleepy old village, with its atmosphere of homely virtue and the brooding sea, is the swiftest life of New York's artistic smart set, both shown in the production with striking fidelity Her sweetheart is a young fisherman who shows marked ability as a sculptor When he goes to the city, at the instance of a rich patron of art and his unscrupulous daughter, the little village girl knows it is the turning point in his career. It is a great story and told only as Mae Marsh can tell it.

"The Price of a Good Time"

A Lois Weber Production with an All-Star Cast

ONE DAY ONLY

How many young men, and especially young girls, start out for a good time with never a thought of the cost? The morning comes —the dawn of a new day—and with its sunshine, pain, anguish, heartaches and the terrible future. Truly a frightful cost to pay. "The Price of a Good Time" Preston, a rich man's son, offers to give little Linnie the time of her life, asking her to state each evening throughout the week where she wants to go. We find them night after night dining at swell hotels, attending the theater, taking in the endless amusements at a nearby summer resort, dancing at cabarets. And then comes their last night Little Linnie's whim is to spend the last evening at the Preston mansion, where she is apparently tempted beyond her strength. Will Preston be man enough to marry the girl whose life he has broken for a lark? Or will he desert her and with a laugh leave her—this poor little helpless girl—to face the world alone, and with bowed head pay the price of a good time? This great problem is worked out in the final reel of this most original and intensely dramatic picture It can do you no harm to see this feature It may do you a lot of good to see it

Plant a War Savings Garden

There are just three main needs for this nation to prosecute this war to a successful conclusion. They are:

1. The men.
2. The money to equip these men of the army and navy with ships, ammunition, clothing and all the thousand and one things the army and navy need.
3. Food for ourselves and our allies.

We already have the men—two million of them already under arms, and unlimited millions more where they came from. They are brave, cheery American men, willing to die, if need be, that free government shall not perish from the earth. There is no need to worry about the men.

There remains for us at home to produce the money and the food. Will we do it before it is too late, or will we muddle along until, some fine day, months away from harvest time, we wake up to the fact that our allies cannot continue the fight because they have nothing to eat, and our soldiers are butchered in some great German offensive because they have not enough shells?

The War Savings campaign is designed to raise the money. It gives all the people—men, women and children—an opportunity to enlist in the great thrift army to back up the men in the trenches. We know they will do it if they fully realize the gravity of the situation.

The farmers of the nation are relied upon to furnish the food. They will do it if they can, but there are many difficulties in the way. Chief of these is the shortage of labor. Fields cannot plow themselves, and weeds will grow and choke the grain unless kept down by unremitting toil.

Why not let the War Savings Campaign and the production of food go hand in hand? Let high school boys who can, work for the farmers this year, and invest their savings in War Savings stamps. And let all boys, and girls, too, for that matter, plant War Savings gardens. They will be amazed to find how much they can produce on little plots of ground, and how readily this food can be sold.

Every boy and girl who plants a war savings garden will be helping his or her country in two ways. They will be producing the food to help defeat the kaiser, and they will be earning money to lend to their country to equip the men who are fighting to keep the hun from our shores.

We should have a million War Savings gardens in Illinois this year.

Who Knows?

Nobody knows where the money goes.
Nobody knows, nobody knows.
Frills and socks,
Silks and smocks,
A bit of a feather,
A new dab of leather,
A ravishing hat,
A sporty gravat,
Some powder, some cream,
A gown that's a dream.
But nobody knows where the money goes,
Nobody knows that it goes for clothes,
Nobody knows, oh nobody knows (but father)! —Ex.

Real Significance of the Thrift Campaign

By James A. Davis

Chairman of the Public Speaking Department of the Cook County War Savings Committee

Thrift is a fundamental characteristic. It means that a people or nation of the vital elements of a nation's wealth and strength. It is one of its greatest effectives in maintenance of war and its preparedness against time of peace.

Thrift is a rule of self control against waste in any form. It is a principle of practice of which it becomes habit, an assured avenue to prosperity and competency.

It is a stimulation to efficiency and industry and a deterrent to extravagance and idleness.

Thrift is the thoughtful management of the earnings we expect to supply our wants. It influences the judgment we use in buying in the competition of our business. It helps us that we buy to more of anything than we can profitably use that we refrain from buying anything we have no use for. Thrift is that quality that helps immediately even and weighs value. It makes a dollar function to its fullest useful me. It prevents curb on extravagance.

If we are about to buy any article and have a choice between one for a dollar and another for a dollar and a half, the $1.50 one differing in no essential way from the one for a dollar and no more convenient, it is thrift which leads us to purchase the one for a dollar, thereby saving fifty cents.

Thrift is the key the thrift stamp are decided by whether it be twenty five cents fifty cents five dollars one hundred or a thousand dollars.

This act may not be defined as economy. It is not that the definite object in view was that savings be increased by the fifty cents. Economy is only a feature of a step in the process of thrift. The motive in thrift is saving, the avoidance of waste, the desire for profit. One may practice thrift without being economic. But one can be economical without being thrifty. Economy in use of material is the sole effect of thrift. Waste to spend is often the objective of economy.

It is thrift that converts opportunity to earn, to earnings, the income into useful, time into profitable occupation.

It is thrift which makes the sum be earn income, say in France. It is thrift that lifts the great Belgian industrial of France, Belgium and Germany for the conversion of waste into manufactured products.

Every man, woman and child in our country must contribute themselves a human by practical plant converting their needless, thoughtless over expenditures and waste into thrift stamps.

We must not confuse thrift with miserliness and niggardliness. It is not demanded of us that we cease buying, everything except the food to nourish us. Such a policy would stifle our industries and prostrate trade. Industrial activity creates payrolls, it creates profits to be taxed for government revenue. If there were no production from manufacturing and trade, what would there be to buy thrift stamps?

What thrift demand and our government expect of us is that we refrain from unnecessary spending, perhaps because we have the money in our pocket to spend.

We must not interfere with the stability and the progress of our industry.

It is not decided that we deprive ourselves of rational amusements but that we control our indulgence in them.

In substance thrift is carefulness, management, prudence, frugality and calculation to the end that a saving of money be effected.

This is the thrift expected of us, the results of which your patriotism will suggest be invested in Thrift Stamps and War Savings Certificates.

That we may take advantage of and profit by this great lesson in thrift in the simple way provided with profitable returns that we may lend our savings so created to our government, in us the glorious satisfaction that we are helping in this critical period of our Country's history to win a righteous war, that we are saving that our brave boys at the front and in training and on the seas may have the best of food and plenty of the warmest clothing, the limit of comfort and best of medical attendance, the most reliable of arms and ammunition, the sharpest of bayonets, that they may know that we are back of them heart and soul and purse to the last penny and the last heart beat. Isn't all this and The Great Cause worth saving for—25 cents at a time?

Our enemies have called us a nation of wasters. Let us give them the lie and prove that we are not only the richest nation in the world but the thriftiest, extravagant only in affording means for defeating them. Men win battles but money wins wars.
